

Why Severstal?

Principles for working with students and graduates

- Fast career development
Our career schemes and development programmes are designed to enable you to become a manager (business students) or a foreman (engineering students) within 1 to 1.5 years of graduating.
- Long-term collaboration
You can start your career even before graduating by completing practical training or an internship with our company.
- Individual approach
You manage your own career according to your own strengths and preferences.

We welcome talented students and graduates from different cities and are happy to assist on any relocation queries.
